

Dairy League Head Gives Report About Meeting Depression

Honest Dollar, Lower Dealer Margin, Freight Cut, League Accomplishments—2,500 Hear President's Speecher Voice Optimism at Dairy-men's League Annual Meeting.

Syracuse, June 13.—The dairy men of the United States, who three years ago America's people might not be frightened by the "black name of panic" and that an old fashioned panic would be regarded as evidence of prosperity, President Fred H. Saxauer today reported the Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association, Inc., had just held a year of building confidence and optimism for the dairy industry despite depression conditions.

To achieve that success, said Mr. Saxauer, the Dairy-men's League had stepped out of the field as a milk marketing organization and entered the broader sphere of economics. Among other things, he said, the farmers' organization had to practically launch and carry on a campaign for monetary reform to check the downward sweep of commodity prices. It had to force a reduction in the spread between what the producers receive for milk and what consumers pay for it; and had to fight a mighty railroad and financial combination to acquire reductions in railroad freight rates on milk shipments.

Because of the Dairy-men's League success in these endeavors and changing conditions, Mr. Saxauer, who was hailed as a pessimist even before the depression because of warnings he sounded of approaching distress for the dairy industry, today declared himself an optimist.

"I am optimistic," said Mr. Saxauer addressing 2,500 members of the Dairy-men's League gathered here for the annual meeting. "For three years we have been going down hill. This year has been the low point for members of this organization as individuals and for the organization itself."

"Two years ago we believed the depression would become more severe, and that commodity prices, including milk, would be lower. We kept in mind the necessity of working out a program broader than the mere handling and selling of milk. Last year it became evident that the association could not render sufficient service in milk marketing alone to overcome the forces of depression. Some other, greater service was necessary. The Dairy-men's League Four Point Program was evolved. It was: 1—Raise the price level of all commodities equal to the debt level and the level of fixed charges; 2—Give agricultural products the same purchasing power in terms of industrial commodities that they had in 1910-14; 3—Unite the dairy industry for the protection of those who are selling their commodity in the form of milk; 4—Reduce operating costs, or the spread between producer and consumer, so that a larger proportion of the consumer's dollar may reach the producer."

Last November, said Mr. Saxauer, it became evident that price levels would continue to decline, that there was not enough unity among dairy farmers for their own protection, and that even sectional or state governmental action could not cure the situation. Therefore, he said, the Dairy-men's League began aggressively working for monetary reform as the only practical method of raising price levels.

The work of the Dairy-men's League with Dr. G. F. Warren and Dr. F. A. Person of Cornell University and other organizations finally led the granting of power to President Roosevelt to change the monetary system, said Mr. Saxauer. Immediately commodity prices started to rise.

"No position that the Dairy-men's League has ever taken has been more quickly vindicated, or productive of results so definite, or more beneficial," declared Mr. Saxauer.

In its efforts to get producers more of the consumer's dollar, said Mr. Saxauer, the Dairy-men's League required its dealers to absorb 45 per cent of the decline when dealers' selling prices decreased 94 cents per 100 pounds through the decline of retail prices in New York from 12 to 10 cents. Since 1929 distributors spread has been reduced 73 cents per 100 pounds.

Mr. Saxauer told of the fierce fight waged by the Dairy-men's League for lower freight rates on milk shipments. "We met opposition from the most powerful interests for the railroads are closely allied with the large central banks," he said. "The propaganda reached even into farm organizations."

A reduction was finally attained to become effective July 1, he said, and will be reflected in August milk checks to farmers. That benefit, he reminded, comes as a result of the work of the Dairy-men's League, and not from legislation or any form of governmental control of the milk business.

France And Poland Default In Debt Payment, Finland Pays

Washington, June 13 (AP)—With some nations defaulting and others making part payments, European countries today fell in line behind Great Britain in informing the Washington government of their decisions of war debt installments.

Early in the day—the semi-annual payday for war debts—the Polish embassy announced it had informed the state department: it could not pay the $2,555,000 due. Poland also defaulted last December.

Next, Ambassador Rosso of Italy advised the state department his country would pay $1,000,000 of $1,745,000 due. This was $245,000 less than the actual amount of interest payable, the remainder being principal.

Dispatches from Paris said France would default on the $49,738,000 payable today. France took the same action last December.

Great Britain made known last night it would pay $10,000,000 in silver, at 50 cents an ounce, on the $75,500,000 owed. However, the full debt was acknowledged pending final settlement. A conference will be held here shortly between representatives of Great Britain and the United States to go over the debt problem, the decision to be submitted to Congress.

William Phillips, acting secretary of state, announced the receipt of a note from Finland accompanying a full payment of that nation's $144,592 installment. Finland was the first country to meet its obligation in full.

Ambassador Patch of Poland presented Phillips an informal memorandum reiterating the position of his country regarding the debts which it expressed prior to its default last December.

Phillips then received Ambassador Laboulaye of France.

Laboulaye delivered a note saying his nation will not meet its $40,738,000 war debt installment due today.

To Raise $250,000,000 By Processing Taxes On Wheat and Cotton

Aim to Better Long Range Farm Prices by Cutting Down Production—Farmer Who Cut Down Production Will Be Rewarded.

Washington, June 13 (AP)—The administration intends to raise $250,000,000 by processing taxes on wheat and cotton which it will levy at their maximum size in a bold program aimed to better long-range farm prices by cutting down production.

The government's plans provide that most of the sum will be used to reward farmers who agree to reduce their output in concert with the Federal drive to halt the piling up of surpluses, long a price-depressing problem for growers of the two chief cash crops of the United States.

President Roosevelt has approved a program, devised under powers provided by the new farm act, which Secretary Wallace will make public tomorrow. A comprehensive acreage curtailment program will be launched immediately for cotton, to take out as much as 10,000,000 acres of the crop now growing.

No effort will be made to cut production of the wheat now nearing harvest. Winter-kill and bad weather have cut the prospects for this crop down to approximately domestic needs for the first time this century, although there is expected to be a carry over of about 380,000,000 bushels on July 1, beginning of the new marketing year. The wheat program, however, is to be put into effect on fall planting.

Fire Forces Young Roosevelts to Move

Rye Beach, N. H., June 13 (AP)—The family of James Roosevelt, son of the President, was staying at the home of relatives today as the result of a fire which forced them to move from their summer place.

Flames which started yesterday in an upper story gained headway before firemen from Portsmouth, Rye Beach and North Hampton could bring them under control. Although part of the furniture was carried from the 15-room house by firemen and servants, damage from flames and water was estimated at $5,000.

Mrs. Roosevelt and her 14-month-old daughter, Sara Delano Roosevelt, were not endangered. Roosevelt hurried here from Boston, where he is in the insurance business, and it was said they would go to the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Cushing of Boston. Mrs. Roosevelt is their daughter.

After the fire there was a report—quickly denied from the White House—that threats had been made to kidnap the child, that a secret service agent had been assigned as a result of the threats, and that the fire might have been intended as a screen for kidnappers.

Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, said at the White House that James Roosevelt had called his father and declared there was "absolutely no truth in the report."

46 PRISONERS SHIFED TO WALLKILL STATE FARMS.

Auburn, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—One of the largest transfers from Auburn prison in months was made today on the order of Warden Joseph H. Brophy. It resulted in the shift of 46 prisoners, mostly short-term inmates, to Wallkill State Farms in the Hudson valley. The prison gave no reason for the transfer.

Mother Tells Story of Bold Attempt Made by Gypsies to Kidnap Son

Ohlerville Woman Relates Story that a Car Containing Six Gypsies Stopped Before Her Store and Attempted to Steal Her Child.

According to the story told by Mrs. Charles Nicolosi of Ohlerville, a bold attempt was made to kidnap her two-year-old son, Vincent, from the Nicolosi store Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Nicolosi's story, as told to Corporal Baker of the State Troopers, is that a car containing six gypsies, four women and two men, stopped along the road, opposite their store and the women came into the store and asked for tobacco.

Told that there was no tobacco, one of them answered, "All right, we'll take the baby," and picking up the little boy, who was sitting on the counter, she started out of the store. The alarmed mother ran from behind the counter and grabbed the gypsy and finally succeeded in regaining the custody of her child. The four gypsies immediately hastened to the waiting car and drove away.

Overcome by her experience Mrs. Nicolosi did not think to get the number of the gypsy car, but after it had disappeared called up Corporal Baker in New Paltz. The latter was out on another call at the time, but some time later went to Ohlerville but was unable to pick up the trail of the band. Mrs. Nicolosi said that she believed the band had headed toward Kingston or the back roads. The nearest she could come to describing the woman who had attempted to take her child was that she was "fairly young."

32 New Ships To Be Built For Navy

Washington, June 13 (AP)—A $228,000,000 naval building program intended to put 32 new ships in the water in three years was formally announced today by Secretary Swanson.

President Roosevelt has agreed to allocate the funds out of the $2,300,000,000 public works appropriation and "is anxious to have the work done as soon as possible," Swanson said.

"We will build to the fullest capacity of shipyard facilities," he added, "as quickly as possible we want to put people to work at shipbuilding where 85 per cent of the expenditures goes to labor."

"We can start in the navy yards at once."

"We hope to open bids for private shipyards in July and may be ready to go ahead in them by August, though that depends a great deal on bids."

Every navy yard in the United States capable of doing work will have some work to do. The program will be pushed from the department with all the vigor we have."

The program: 20 destroyers of which 15 will be in the 1,500-ton class and four in the 550 class. Two aircraft carriers not exceeding 26,000 tons. Four 14,000-ton, six-inch cruisers. Four submarines. Two gunboats for Chinese waters.

Neglects Family: Is Sent to Jail

Everett Sampson, a Negro of Syracuse Street, Jail for six months. Arrested on complaint of Probation Officer Staples—Other Cases.

Probation Officer Harry C. Staples of the public schools called to see Judge Cullison at the city hall on Wednesday and told the judge a story about the family of Everett Sampson, 45, a Negro of 35 Syracuse street. The probation officer was accompanied by two of Sampson's small children. As a result of the visit Mr. Staples swore out a warrant for the arrest of Sampson, charging Sampson with wilfully causing his minor children to be placed in a position or situation where their health was likely to be injured.

Sampson was arraigned in police court this morning at which time Mr. Staples appeared to press the charge. Mr. Staples said that the children of Sampson came to school without having anything to eat. Mr. Sampson was present in the court room with a baby in her arms. She was questioned by Judge Cullison and stated that the family received home relief but when she went to the home relief office she was refused a food order and told that her husband must come and get it. This the husband would neglect to do.

"It is evident that you are more of a hindrance than a help to your family," observed Judge Cullison, turning to Sampson who did not reply. The judge continued, stating that he would do his part to see that Sampson's family received food by taking care of Sampson. This he did by sentencing Sampson to six months in the county jail.

VACATION PLANS ENDED FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Washington, June 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt put vacation plans aside today to settle with Congress the dispute over veterans compensation allowances.

For weeks, Mr. Roosevelt had counted upon leaving the capital tonight to attend tomorrow's exercises at Groton School in Massachusetts where his son John is to be graduated. He himself had attended this same school. This hope seemed lost today.

Forger Convicted In Federal Court

Solomon James Davis was convicted today on both counts of an indictment charging him with forging the name of Joseph Ginguine to a veteran's application for a loan and to the endorsement of a veteran's bureau check in the sum of $475.

Assistant United States Attorney Morris Kanfer, who tried the case, told Judge Bondy when sentence was about to be imposed that the nature of the crime committed indicated that the defendant was a shrewd and therefore dangerous criminal to society and should be severely punished. He also pointed out to the court the defendant's criminal record, having pleaded guilty to attempted grand larceny in the second degree in 1925 in connection with the forging of the name of his then employer to a $90 check.

The defendant, Solomon Davis, made an application to the United States Veterans Administration for a loan in the sum of $475 against the original advanced veteran's service certificate issued to Joseph Ginguine, forged Ginguine's name to the application and note and had it acknowledged before a notary public to whom he represented himself to be Ginguine. On January 26, 1933, a United States postal carrier delivered the letter from the Veterans Administration, containing the check, which was addressed to Joseph Ginguine to the defendant's address, 170 W. 123 street. The defendant identified himself to the carrier as Joseph Ginguine by showing him a chauffeur's license, a birth certificate, and a school card. The defendant cashed the check on the same day at the money order window of the post office upon the identification of Postal Carrier Tighe to whom he had identified himself that morning as Ginguine when the letter and check were delivered to him.

The fraud was not discovered until March, 1933, when the real Joseph Ginguine made an application for a loan on a duplicate adjusted veteran's certificate which was issued to him after he had failed to receive the original certificate which in some manner unknown to him fell into the possession of the defendant.

Immediately after his arrest the defendant gave specimens of his handwriting to Secret Service Operative John J. Fitzgerald, which specimens were used as the basis of comparison with the writings on the application and note and veteran's check. B. C. Farrar, a handwriting expert connected with the United States Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., testified that upon examining the specimens of the defendant's handwriting and the writing of the name Joseph Ginguine from the application and check he was convinced that all these writings were made by the same person. He stated that the defendant had a wide range of handwriting and disguised his natural style of writing when signing the name of Joseph Ginguine.

The trial lasted four days and the defendant was sentenced by Federal Judge Bondy to 1 year and 1 day imprisonment on the first count and to 6 months imprisonment on the second count, execution of the sentence on the second count being suspended during his good behavior. Judge Bondy admonished the defendant that he would be brought back to serve the additional 5 years at any time should he become involved in a violation of the law again.

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Women's Christian Association, held this week, the resignation of Miss Jane Van Etten, who has been the exceedingly efficient and popular secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the past six years, was accepted with sincere regret. The resignation will be effective September first, at the full expiration of the six years of service.

Miss Van Etten, feeling that the change to some other field of activity after so long a service would be desirable both for herself and the association, Miss Van Etten could not be reached this morning and at this time it is not known what her plans for the future are. The Board of Directors are negotiating for the right person to succeed Miss Van Etten for this important position in the community as well as at the Y. W. C. A.

First Resolution of World Conference

Discriminations and Boycotts Resolution Proposed by the Representative of Soviet Russia.

London, June 13 (AP)—The first definite resolution of the world economic conference was proposed today by the representative of Soviet Russia. It is discriminations and boycotts.

The resolution, which was handed to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, conference chairman, would affect the British and Russian embargoes arising from the resentment attending the conviction in April of five British electrical engineers who were tried in Moscow on charges of sabotage and bribery.

A possible effect also was seen on the Chinese boycott of Japan if the suggestion is adopted.

Immediate action was not requested. The resolution, intended to supplement the Roosevelt trade on tariff changes, provides that nations "withdraw irrespective of motives underlying them, all legislative and administrative measures already passed by them and still in force having the nature of economic aggression or discrimination against any country, such as special customs duties placed on goods from any country, prohibition of export or import to and from any one country, all special conditions for the same, and boycott of trade with any one country."

MacDonald returned to the president's chair and gave the assembly a bit of a thrill by announcing the bureau—steering committee—was to meet early this evening. At that time it was anticipated the vexing question of the chairmanship of the monetary committee might be settled.

William C. Bullitt, special assistant to Secretary Hull, denied reports circulated in Russian quarters that he had been instructed to make overtures toward American recognition of Soviet Russia.

Miss Noone Honored By the 1933 Maroon

Today when the 1933 Maroons were distributed, it was learned that the book had been dedicated to Miss Mary E. Noone, retired teacher of English in Kingston High School.

Miss Noone had been, prior to her resignation last January, the chief adviser to the Maroon, which is the Senior Class publication of Kingston High School.

She is a woman of boundless energy and wide interests. In former years, before the high school staff had become so large, she found time not only to take care of her regular classes but also to coach debating. Commencement and Class Day speakers, and to direct the senior play. Her production of "Everywoman" is remembered as one of the outstanding presentations of the school. She is known to many Kingston men and women as the teacher who interspersed many a lesson in honesty and fair dealing among her regular assignments. Hence it is that this dedication expresses the feeling not only of the school but also of the whole city.

Steering Committee of Economic Conference Unanimously Selects American Chairman of Vital Monetary Committee

—Opposition To James M. Cox Had Been Based on Grounds That the Chairman Should Come From a Gold Standard Country.

London, June 13 (AP)—The United States achieved a great and hard-won victory in the world economic conference with the election of James M. Cox as chairman of the vital monetary committee by the steering committee late today.

The designation of the American was unanimous and his name was presented by the Frenchman, Georges Bonnet, who had himself been a candidate. Bonnet had bitterly opposed Cox's election until a compromise was effected among warring groups in mid-afternoon.

Opposition to the American had been based on grounds that the chairman should come from a gold standard country.

Finance Minister Guido Jung of Italy was given the vice chairmanship and M. Bonnet, the French finance minister, was elected reporter to the convention.

Prime Minister Hendrick Colijn of Holland, who had been suggested as a compromise chairman of the monetary group, was elected to head the important economic committee.

With this happy outcome of the dispute Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain and other members of the steering committee rushed from the private room where they met at the assembly hall to break the good news to the general assembly.

The elevator in which the economic party was descending got stuck and for some time delayed proceedings. MacDonald and the steering committee were stalled in the elevator for ten minutes before they were finally released.

MacDonald's dry Scotch humor came to the surface as he emerged, saying with a smile:

"We have had an adventure." The pressing importance of affairs outside the main assembly hall, where the speeches were proceeding, was evidenced on resumption of the afternoon session.

Prime Minister MacDonald had barely made his bow as president when he handed over the gavel to Foreign Minister Paul Hymans of Belgium and disappeared. Cox, who was in his delegate's seat, promptly deserted the assembly hall leaving Senator Key Pittman of Nevada as the sole American delegate present.

Private discussions had proceeded during the luncheon recess. Well-informed conference quarters said they understood the Americans had agreed to stabilize the dollar and the pound only on condition that the principal central banks would pursue a monetary and credit program designed to continue the advance in commodity prices.

It was believed that the French had agreed to go at least part of the way in such measures. The British already had announced substantial agreement with the American to ease money and credit expansion policies.

MacDonald returned to the president's chair and gave the assembly a bit of a thrill by announcing the bureau—steering committee—was to meet early this evening. At that time it was anticipated the vexing question of the chairmanship of the monetary committee might be settled.

William C. Bullitt, special assistant to Secretary Hull, denied reports circulated in Russian quarters that he had been instructed to make overtures toward American recognition of Soviet Russia.

Hull characterized the reports as "absurd."

MORGAN PARTNER ON STAND TODAY IN MITCHELL TRIAL

New York, June 13 (AP)—George Whitney, J. P. Morgan partner, went on the stand as a defense witness in federal court today at the income tax trial of Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank.

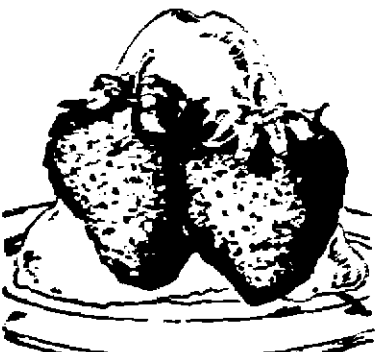

It was through Whitney, Mitchell has testified, that he completed the transaction whereby he borrowed from the Morgans in October 1929, nearly $10,000,000 about $5,000,000 of which he still owes, and it was through Whitney also, he said, he arranged for W. D. Thornton, mining man who preceded the Morgan partner as a witness today, to borrow $229,500 to buy Mitchell's 8,599 shares of Anaconda copper stock in 1930.

Briefly Whitney testified that in October, 1929, Mitchell borrowed from the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company a sum "up to $12,000,000," putting up National City Bank stock as collateral.

Subsequently, he said, Mitchell increased his collateral. In March, 1931, turning over three mortgages.

HOLLYWOOD STARS ARE VICTIMS OF JEWEL GANGSTERS

Operations of Criminal Band in Film Colony Bring Huge Returns.

Hollywood, Calif.—Operations of Hollywood's gem gangsters, led by a suave "finger man" who steals jewelry of film stars for gun-carrying henchmen, have been revealed by the bold $41,000 robbery at the home of Betty Compson.

The gang, according to Chief of Detectives Joe Taylor, of Los Angeles, has reaped a rich reward of nearly $250,000 in gems from the elite of screenland.

Listed in this roundup are the $30,000 gem theft at the home of Helene Costello, sister of Dolores; the $50,000 raid on the home of Zeppo Marx, one of the Marx brothers; the $16,000 robbery of Mae West, of "Diamond Lil" stage fame; the $75,000 holdup of Marion Nixon, and the theft of $45,000 in gems from Constance Talmadge's home.

Gang Under Control.
Police say that they have the gang under control and the leader, now under observation, will be arrested in a short time.

The leader of the gang—the "finger man"—has been in Hollywood more than two years and has gained the friendship of stars by his suave appearance and his genial, well-bred manner.

With this entree he was able to learn which star made a habit of wearing jewelry worth thousands and where such jewelry was hidden. This information he "tipped" to his gunmen, who at a given signal committed the robbery or burglary.

By offering a return of the jewels at 20 per cent of their value the gang escapes the dangerous business of dealing with a "fence"—as the underworld calls the broker who buys stolen goods.

Most potent of the gang's weapons is the threat of death if police are called to assist the victims.

Terrorize Miss Compson.
"Miss Compson was completely terrorized," said Chief of Detectives Taylor. "She was convinced that she would be killed if she worked with us."

Mae West was held up and robbed last September by a bandit who met her as she returned to her Hollywood apartment. He took $18,000 in jewels and $3,400 in cash. She never reported the robbery to the police—probably because of the death threat.

Two bandits entered the home of Helene Costello last October, bound the house boy with piano wire, and put straps of adhesive tape across his mouth—as the bandit did to Miss Compson in robbing her recently. Then they went directly to where Miss Costello's jewels were hidden. In August burglars entered the home of Zeppo Marx and took $37,000 in jewels.

The Marx jewelry was recovered when an insurance company in Chicago "paid off" the gang—20 per cent of the value of the jewels. The Costello and Compson jewelry was recovered in the same way. Mae West's gems still are missing.

Steals Bible for Mother, Declares She Needed It

Chicago.—A son who stole a Bible because the only one his ninety-seven-year-old mother had was destroyed when fire consumed her Kansas City home, was sentenced recently to seven months in the house of correction and fined $100.

Charged with petty larceny after he had taken the Bible from a loop department store, Harry Walker, forty-six years old, appeared before Judge Frank M. Padden in South State Street court.

"Why would you steal a Bible?" the judge asked.

"My mother likes to read the Bible," Walker said. "She's ninety-seven, and since her house in Kansas City burned she hasn't had any. She asked me to get her another one and I had no money."

Judge Padden seemed about to make some pronouncement when an idea occurred to him to ask if Walker had ever been in trouble before.

"Yes, your honor, I've been in six penitentiaries," the prisoner answered.

Old Man Rout Bandits, but Shies at Marriage

St. Louis, Mo.—Thomas McMunn, seventy-three-year-old bachelor, who routed two robbers in a fist fight, won't even consider two marriage proposals he received as a result of his clash with the robbers.

"I'm not afraid of robbers," he said, "but I know a wife would bespeak me." McMunn, who weighs but 150 pounds, knocked down both robbers with his fist.

Two women who wrote they saw his picture in the papers said they were looking for a brave husband. McMunn threw both letters in the stove, answering neither.

Farmer Aims at Hog and Shoots Himself in Foot

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—The old farm chore of "hog killing" has been listed by W. R. Crolsen farmer, as a dangerous occupation. He is in a hospital recovering from a shot through his foot. Crolsen aimed at a hog to be fattened when his dog leaped in front of the hog. He lowered the gun suddenly and the shot passed through his foot.

P.-T. A. School No. 2

The regular meeting of P.-T. A. School No. 2 was held Tuesday afternoon at 8:30. Mrs. Abbott presiding after the regular order of business the newly elected officers were installed by Mrs. Harry Clearwater, past president of the P.-T. A. Council and at present president of School No. 1. At the close of the installation Mrs. Abbott presented each officer with a bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. A. Black, the newly elected president, then announced her committee for the coming year as follows: Finance, Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. Allen Mackey, Mrs. Bernard Krumm; hospitality, Mrs. Bernan; Mrs. Branstetter, Mrs. Cohen; membership, Mrs. A. Salzman, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Mrs. A. Messinger, Mrs. H. Kingsburg; program, Mrs. Charles Abbott, Mrs. Meacham, Miss Thompson; publications, Mrs. Spelker; publicity, Mrs. E. J. Luedtke.

Mrs. Harry Clearwater gave a very interesting talk on nature study. She said the children, especially the girls of the lower grades and the intermediate, were most interested. It pleased the parents to see the final exhibits and through it increased the membership of the P.-T. A.

A motion was made and carried to have a Sunshine Box to be passed at each meeting. Mrs. Abbott reported if there were 20 mothers interested in a study group would be started in fall, the state providing trained leaders. Miss Hale and Miss Osterhout's rooms were tied for the attendance banner for the month.

At the close of the meeting Miss E. Rosecrans was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers, also a cake with 53 candles, signifying the number of years she has taught. Mrs. Abbott paid tribute to Miss Rosecrans upon her retiring after which Miss Edna Abbott sang very beautifully two appropriate numbers, "Smilin' Thru" and "We Love You Truly."

A covered dish luncheon was then enjoyed by all present during which Mrs. E. J. Luedtke read a report on the annual spring conference held at Poughkeepsie, June 3.

The Lesson

Jud Tankins says maybe it's a good thing to talk a good deal before payin' debts. It may help you to remember to be careful about borrowin' in the future.—Washington Star.

Most Fruit Crops Relatively Light

While the apple trees of the state bloomed very full and appear to have set enough fruit for a good production, the peach, pear and cherry trees promise much lighter crops than last season according to a state-federal report issued from the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Although the Rhode Island Greening and some of the minor varieties of apples bloomed light and promise a light production of fruit, the Baldwin, New York's most important variety of apples in point of number of trees, as well as several other varieties had a very full bloom and have prospects for a good production if nothing serious happens to prevent before harvest time. The present condition is reported as 80 per cent of normal compared with 71 last June. Apples are reported to be very bad this year and apple scab seems to be very common.

Peach production in the state promises to be much lighter this year than last. A fair bloom was obtained but an epidemic of leaf curl has struck the peach to such an extent that many trees will doubtless be defoliated and others will have their production lowered. Peach insects are reported to be very common this season. The present condition of 59 per cent of normal forecasts a production of about 1,134,000 bushels compared with 1,693,000 bushels last season and the 5-year average of 1,720,000 bushels. Georgia's production is 4,590,000 bushels compared with the light production of 1,170,000 bushels last year and the average from 1926-1930 of about 6,909,000 bushels. In North Carolina the production is forecast at 1,856,000 bushels compared with 1,645,000 bushels last year. California expects a production of about 23,294,000 bushels, which is very nearly the same as last year and very nearly an average production.

Present indications point to a production of only about 840,000 bushels of pears in New York this year compared with a production of about 1,745,000 bushels last year and the average production from 1926-1930 of about 1,670,000 bushels. Although pear production promises to be slightly greater than last year through the majority of the eastern pear states except New York it is generally below the average for the five years from 1926-1930. Through the Pacific coast states pear production promises to be larger than last season and larger than average. Total production of pears for the entire country promises to amount to about 23,294,000 bushels compared with 23,182,640 last year and 23,321,990 bushels the five-year average.

Cherries in New York were badly injured by the frosts during late April so that the set of fruit is reported to be comparatively light through several of the commercial cherry areas. The present condition of the crop is estimated at 42 per cent of normal compared with 63 last June. In Michigan the condition is placed at 75 per cent of normal compared with 66 per cent a year ago. Wisconsin has a reported condition of 50 compared with 51 last June. For the twelve important cherry growing states the present condition is placed at 64.4 per cent of normal compared with 67.9 per cent a year ago and 65.3 per cent two years ago.

Squirrel Daring Robber

The squirrel is a daring robber. He steals on bird eggs, fruits, herbs, fish and nuts, the latter being stored and secretly stored in quantities sometimes equaling one bushel. Such large stores are necessary because the squirrel does not hibernate.

Industrial leaders received some support around their closing quotations of yesterday, and several of the rails stepped up moderately in response to the continued improvement in transportation revenues, the vitality of the recent upward swing was lacking. Foreign exchanges slumped in terms of the dollar on reports that currency stabilization was impossible. Wheat displayed early weakness, but steadied later, and corn, soy and oats improved. Cotton did not move very far in any direction. Bar silver was heavy, at 7 1/2 of a cent an ounce at 7 1/2 cents.

Union Pacific was a carrier favorite with an advance of about 2 points, and other rail issues up fractionally to a point. Among the New York Central, Delaware & Hudson, Lackawanna, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and Chesapeake & Ohio. U. S. Industrial Alcohol not up 2 points, but the other alcohol members were indifferent. American Telephone, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Allied Chemical, American Can, and United Aircraft eased. Among the steady oils were Standard of New Jersey, Socony Vacuum and Consolidated. A demand for Chrysler put that motor issue up around a point at one time. Mining stocks were rather heavy. Dome, McIntyre, Porcupine and Alaska Juneau sagging about a point each.

Bank stocks have been inclined to sag in the face of conflicting interpretations of the Glass-Steagall act which promises to have far-reaching influence on banking in this country. Meanwhile, bankers are giving the measure close study in an effort to canvass its full potentialities, although some bank officials have already hinted at the possibility of withdrawals from the Federal Reserve System.

Of equal concern to bankers generally is the gyrations of the American dollar in European markets. Hope is expressed by most that the dollar-pound rate can be stabilized soon, although there is much guesswork as to what this rate will be.

Mattern Takes Off Again for Alaska

Moscow, June 15 (AP)—Jimmie Mattern was on his way to American soil today, battling with elements that once before had caused him to turn back from the Siberia-to-Nome leg of his world flight.

This time he had the assurance that better weather conditions lay ahead of the 2,500-mile jaunt from Khabarovsk, Siberia, to Nome, Alaska, and expert advice on the best route.

He left Khabarovsk at 10:30 p. m. Moscow time (2:30 p. m. Wednesday, E. S. T.), and absence of reports about him was taken by friends here as indicating things were going better than on Tuesday, when bad weather forced him to return to Khabarovsk eight hours after starting the trans-Pacific lap.

Before he left, he talked things over with Boris Lukht, a Russian aviator who is considered an authority on flying conditions in the area Mattern will cross.

FORMER KINGSTON NURSE MARRIES OCTOGONARIAN

Miss Ida M. Clarke, 28-year-old nurse, who married Crosby Leonard, aged 80, in the Little Church Around the Corner, New York city, Wednesday, studied for her profession at the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing and has a number of friends in Kingston.

She is the daughter of George H. Clarke and was born in Ontario, Canada. Her marriage to Leonard is his second, his first wife, having died in 1901. A daughter died at Bryn Mawr some years ago.

At the little church where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. A. E. McLaughlin yesterday, the bridegroom said:

"I never intend to grow old. In fact, I expect to live to be at least 120 years of age—not old, mind you—but of age. I met my wife three years ago at a Halloween party in the Baptist church on Madison avenue. I was hurt in a taxicab crash, and she nursed me for three months."

"I fell in love with her, and for a long time was afraid to ask her to marry me because of the disparity in our ages, but finally I did. And, to my surprise, she said she would marry me."

Leonard says he is a writer of poetry, magazine articles and scenarios and that he plans no honeymoon.

FUROR FOR LINEN NOTE OF SEASON

Used in Costumes for Day and Night Wear.

Linen is the new rage for costumes to wear from daylight to dark and from dark to dawn.

Linen suits, linen coats, linen sports frocks and linen dinner gowns are blossoming out in our best shop windows, making a big note in the midst of more semi-formal attire and rating a great big hand from discerning debutantes.

The reason for all this furor about linen probably is that the canny manufacturers have succeeded in overcoming two of the greatest drawbacks heretofore in linen clothes. You know the common failing of a last season's linen suit, that starts out crisp and immaculate in the morning, and after an hour is a crumpled mess. And you know also that in days gone by a bit of moisture in the air was fatal to the spirit of a linen costume. Now they are presenting suits and frocks of linen, not only uncrushable but show-proof.

And another point is that linens this year are shown in grand sporting tweeds, designs, stripes and plaids, and gingham checks, in every color under the sun.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By John Hix

For further good address the author, including a stamped envelope for reply. Box 12, P.O. 102

Overcoming the handicap of blindness that resulted from an accident when he was 12 years old, David E. Guyton, of Blue Mountain, Mississippi, has followed his career as an educator and journalist with success. Prof. Guyton is also president of the Bank of Blue Mountain. He has the distinction of being the first man to be graduated from Blue Mountain College, a school which up to the time he entered it was exclusively for women. He is also the first blind person to be graduated there. After getting his Bachelor of Arts degree there he continued his education in the University of Mississippi where he was given a Bachelor of Science degree—the first to be given to a blind man by that school. At Columbia University he received his Master of Arts degree—the first man to be thus honored by that school. At present he is head of the School of History and Political Science at Blue Mountain College.

"Blindness," according to Prof. Guyton, "though an inconvenience, is no bar to teaching. Indeed, blindness is mainly a handicap in small features of life, not hindering high thinking, original planning, constructive and creative mental work."

In addition to his duties as banker and educator, Prof. Guyton finds time to write for newspapers, filling assignments for spot news as well as feature writing. He handles his own copy, even to making carbon copies, addressing, and posting.

an unpopular one. That, however, does not make it less sound. "It is too early to know what the full effect of any Control Board activities will be. Control Boards are new institutions. If they become permanent they will find themselves faced with problems and pressures which any political agency must recognize. Up to the present they have operated for the benefit of producers. The major problems which the industry will face under Control Board operation have not yet appeared. Some will appear soon. Others will come when the consuming public, which is a majority of the people of the state, feel that they have a right to insist that the price of milk be less than what farmers feel is just."

"When the New York Control Board began to operate the Dairy-men's League offered cooperation. It did not offer subservience. It has spoken critically of the Control Board. It has also spoken in commendation. This Association has never been a 'yes' organization. 'Some say there is no longer need for the Dairy-men's League, that it has served out its usefulness and that the state has taken over its functions. That, however, is wrong. Governmental control of business, agriculture and of organization seems to be the order of the day. No one can say how this will operate. In the years to come organization will be just as necessary to farmers of this territory as in the past. Over any long period only those who are prepared to protect themselves will be protected by the state. Dealers will protect themselves. The state has 12,000,000 people of which dairymen are only 100,000."

this-season pebbly surfaced woollens?
They are quite the latest for suits and about-town dresses and come in the loveliest tones and tints which tune in to the summer picture perfectly.
The costume pictured is an exponent of all that is smartest for immediate wear. Here a suit of rose and beige wool-partners with a rose crepe blouse.
The flowers at the neck worked of the same material as the blouse are interesting. The little alpine hat of burlap straw is the newest ever. Perforated leather gloves, with bag to match and the new single eyelet tie shoes with medium heels complete a perfect ensemble down to the slightest detail.

STYLE NOTES

Pink registers as a sports favorite.
Gray flannel is high-style for suits and coats.
Red cotton net makes a winsome dance frock.
The younger set adore the new field flower prints.
Suits and frocks knit of string is the big sports item.
Cotton net for the bride and her attendants is advocated.
Wide hemlines and wide shoulders feature for evening.
Silk burlap is used for hats, bags, scarves and jackets.
Metal mesh collars, cuffs, yokes and belts are smartly in vogue.

English Setter Fine Fol
Among the setters, the English, perhaps, is the most popular. It is a gentleman's dog, a born aristocrat and a fine companion. It is at its best when unleashed and displays flashes of unusually intelligence that makes its owner swear it is the smartest bird dog in the world. It is seldom that you find a dog with the appealing, sympathetic eyes possessed by the English setter.

Today

Kingston: "Peg o' My Heart." Marion Davies, J. Farrell MacDonald, Orlow Stevens, Juliette Compton and Alan Mowbray are all members of the cast in this well known and often acted story of the little Irish girl and her struggle for happiness. It is an interesting and gay show to see, for the old plot has been dressed up in new garments and a musical score has been written into the production. No effort has been spared to make the play elaborate and unsophisticated, and Miss Davies, in the starring role, does a brilliant bit of acting. A show that the whole family will enjoy. An added attraction is the Baer-Schmeling fight pictures, showing a round by round story of the battle.

Orpheum: "Deception" and "Sally of the Subway." Leo Carrillo gives another outstanding performance as a crooked promoter in this first double feature offering, and he is supported by Dickie Moore and Nat Pendleton. "Sally of the Subway" is a big city drama with Dorothy Revier and Jack Mulhall.

Broadway: "Six Hours to Live." Warner Baxter is at his best in this strange story of a man brought from death back to life again. Mr. Baxter plays the part of a trusted government official, who is murdered by a political enemy during a world trade meeting because he refuses to get into line. A noted scientist has invented a new life ray, a ray capable of bringing the dead back to life for a period of six hours. The picture deals with the swift and tragic six hours of life left to a man already dead. So capable is the acting, so original the story, so beautiful the photography and settings, that this talkie is something to see. Mr. Baxter gives his most realistic and enjoyable performance, one that will be remembered for its feeling and realism. Miriam Jordan is perfectly cast as the girl, with John Boles, George Marion, Sr., and several other featured players doing fine work in supporting roles.

Tomorrow

Kingston: "Diplomaniacs." Burlesque, in which those two comics, Bert Wheeler of the childlike ways, and Robert Woolsey, exponent of the lighted cigar, are the stars. It ridicules the Geneva Peace Conference in a big way, and the dialogue is replete with risqué statements, and some of the scenes might be classed as suggestive. Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Woolsey manage to get off some of their grand comedy, although they both seem a bit lost as the story carries them no where in particular. There is some good music, some chorus girls that know how to dance, and enough of a plot to keep the action moving. The "Baer-Schmeling" fight pictures will continue through the week as an added attraction.

Orpheum: "Air Hostess" and "Dude Bandit." James Murray, Evelyn Knapp and Thelma Todd are all to be seen in the first double feature offering, an airplane story that has its share of thrills and excitement. "Dude Bandit" stars Hoot Gibson, and features Gloria Shea, "Skeeter," Neal Hart and Gordon DeMaime, in a western picture that is far above the average.

Broadway: Same.

OLD MURDOCK HOMESTEAD
RECENTLY CHANGED HANDS.

Among recent property transfers was that of the old Murdock homestead on the road between Hurley and Marletown. The land was bought by John Murdock in 1845, the house being erected shortly afterward. His daughter, Mrs. Ephraim Lasher, and husband occupied the home until their death recently. The property has been sold by Mrs. Lasher's heirs to Russell Krom of Lomontville, who is remodeling the house and will occupy it. The house stands opposite the old stone Marletown school house, built in 1852.

Food Coloring

Vegetable colors are derived principally from annatto, archil (a lichen), indigo, quercitron (the bark of the black oak), safflower, saffron, spinach, and turmeric. Carmine, a brilliant red and one of the oldest of present colors, is obtained from the female cochineal, a small cactus-inhabiting insect of Mexico, Peru, and several Mediterranean countries. The dark brown of caramel is produced by heating sugar.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

June 15, 1933

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

This week Friday the Ford Motor Company completes 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

HOLLYWOOD
SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—A talkie version of "A Tale of Two Cities" has been in the film air for several years, but something—probably Hollywood's ingrained fear of costume drama—always has worked against its realization until now.

In recent months Hollywood has taken the curse off pictures that dramatized the past, with "Cavalcade" setting the pace for an unanimous excursion into the gay nineties, aided and abetted from the comedy standpoint by Mae West.

Looks Like A Contest

And now we see the producers engaged in such varied screen efforts as the Dickens classic, with a French revolutionary background; "Little Women," with a setting in the American war between the states; Emile Zola's "Germans," Charlotte Brontë's "Jane Eyre," and Rudyard Kipling's "Capt. Corcoran," the latter, incidentally, the only one of the group to be "modernized," with John Barrymore, not Jimmy Durante, in the role of the romantic with the colossal nose. Garbo's "Queen Christina" also is a costume play.

In "A Tale of Two Cities" the dual role of Charles Darnay and Sydney Carton is among movie actors a plum comparable to that of Hamlet on the stage. It requires versatility, and both characters are sympathetic. Carton's self-sacrificing speech at the close is one many actors have dreamed of delivering. Assignment of Warner Baxter to head an all-star cast in the production puts an end to such day-dreams.

Remember, Will?
Even a "cowboy diplomat" sometimes finds his face red.
Will Rogers strolled into the studio cafe the other noon, sat down, and chummily hurried a jump of sugar at a blond actress three tables away. Miriam Jordan looked up, startled but smiling, and Will, in some confusion, realized it was a case of mistaken identity.
"Excuse me, miss," he stammered, "I thought you were Marian Nixon!"
Movie players never like to be mistaken for others, even for good others, but Miriam, who once worked on the stage with Rogers, passed that off as laughing.
"You've really met me, too, you know—in 'Three Cheers,'" she said.
Responded Will, still fumbling: "Well, if you'd been out there on the stage and watched 60 cowboys twirling ropes you might not place me either."
"Oh, but I wasn't in the chorus," laughed Miriam sweetly.
And Will ducked under the table.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

London, June 15 (AP).—Secretary of State Harry Swanton today said his assistants had been unable to find the original copies either of the 1875 constitution or the amended constitution adopted in 1926.

L. P. Laupac, an assistant conducting the search, said the originals were needed as questions had arisen about the accuracy of printed copies. The copy printed in the 1922 compiled statutes differed in several places from that printed in the 1929 compiled statutes.

Only Five, She Dies A Heroine
New York—Add to the list of heroines the late Helga Kubner, 5. She saw a big clothes pole swaying above her brother, Henry, 3, as he played in the yard. Rushing to Henry, she pushed him out of the way just as the pole fell. It killed her.

Deer! Deer!
San Francisco—From Sequoia National Park, outpost of the California civil conservation corps front came a call to army headquarters for emergency clothing. Deer in the national park, the request stated, made a surprise raid on a corps camp and chewed up washing hung out to dry. Socks, shirts and underwear are needed.

No Imagination
Philadelphia—Harry Graisvory was haled before a magistrate after police had seized liquor at his home. "What were you doing with so much liquor?" the magistrate asked. "Judge," said Graisvory, "I just moved in the house last week. I guess the fellow who moved out must have left the stuff. Can you imagine that?"

"No, I can't," replied the magistrate, and held Graisvory for a further hearing.

Teeth Cost A Job
St. Paul—Leo J. Gromley passed the Civil Service test, but a physical examination disclosed he had only 18 teeth, two less than the 20 prescribed by minimum service requirements. He carried the case to district court, where Judge Hugo Hanft ruled the city was right in turning Gromley down as a policeman.

May Have A Look
Aurora, Ill.—Employees of the Aurora Cotton Mills numbering about 250 were told they could go over the company's books to see that everything possible was being done for them.

This announcement followed a 16 per cent wage increase, which restored in part cuts which totalled 40 per cent during the financial recession.

That Youngster Rome
New York—Old Rome is younger than that youngster New York—in a sense. Figures published by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show that 56.84 per cent of Rome's population is under 30, while New York's percentage is only 53.02. Tokyo is the "youngest of the world capitals," with a 67.07 per cent under 30.

A $50 Blow
Chicago—There are lots of things Robert Rose, 72, Los Angeles, will stand for but calling him "Grandpa" makes him see red.

He was in court accused of punching Police Sergeant Kyran Phelan on the chin.

"He called me grandpa," Rose protested.

Handkerchief Linen Dresses Arrive

New York—Some of our smartest shops are introducing satin for street wear again. They are suggesting it either in dark or light shades preferably the former, and preferably black.

The little warm weather frock shown in navy and has cunning and daintily white ruffles around the neck and sleeve line—in fact, that is all it has by way of sleeves. One should wear daring garter-like gloves with it, either white, blue or blue and white. These could be of pique. Gloves are of pique so often that it seems odd that the material should not have been used for gloves until this summer.

Before we forget to tell you about it, let's talk about the lovely handkerchief linen frocks, hand-drawn and no on, that have quite suddenly come into favor. They are not all plain either. Many are in handkerchief designs as well, and the younger set especially seem very much set up over them. Here again we find these raspberry colorings we were talking of yesterday. Where indeed do we not come upon them, and upon the new purple tones into which they glide so easily?

If you are one who just can't see anything but flowers when it comes to summer dress designs, you may be delighted by the idea of singling out certain of your pet field flowers for special attention instead of wearing them in a better-sketcher fashion. Take buttercups. They are ever so smart in silhouette effect in their own sunshiny color with either green or brown.

We have refrained, and with some difficulty, from again dragging dotted Swiss into the discussion of summer fabrics, for we may seem unduly enthusiastic over it. It has certainly become one of the foremost of the sheers.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Dinner dresses are occasionally designed with high backs and front and puffed sleeves and evening dresses more extreme are low-cut at back, and occasionally at the front describe a cross-cross treatment of the bodice.

ON JUNE 28TH

Only those Kelvinators now on hand to be sold at the old, low prices!

This spring, the Kelvinator factory announced new prices on the Standard 1933 Line. These prices were the lowest in Kelvinator's 19 years in the industry. But, they were guaranteed only until materials costs went up.

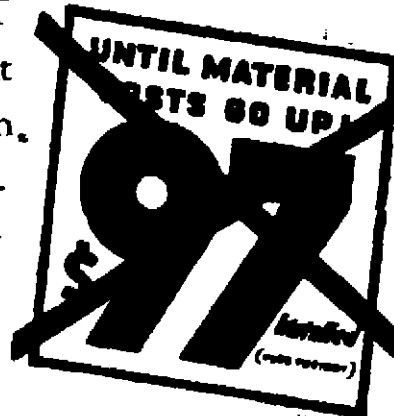

Materials costs have gone up—and prices must go up also—because Kelvinator will not cheapen the product—sacrifice quality—to meet a low price. On the above date new prices on all Kelvinator models go into effect.

We saw this price increase coming. And we placed orders at the old prices. But, dealers all over the country were doing likewise and even though April and May were the biggest months in Kelvinator history, the big factories at Detroit and Grand Rapids could not possibly supply the demand.

As a result, we haven't as many of these models —bought at the old prices—as we wish we had. We might hold back those we do have and sell them at the increased prices. But that isn't what we are going to do. We are going to sell the Kelvinators which we now have in stock at the old, low prices.

For your protection, we wish to call particular attention to the following—You may have looked at a Kelvinator—and asked about the price. The price we quoted is now withdrawn EXCEPT on models bought at the old price which are now in stock. When the Kelvinators now on hand are sold, our prices must go up.

Presidency's Powers At Record Peace Time High

Roosevelt Control Over Nation's Activities Rests On Repeated Grants By Congress

These close-ups of President Roosevelt were taken at various times since he entered the White House and began a term beset from the start by effects of the depression.

They reflect some of the moods, light as well as serious, of the executive whose power to cope with that depression has been enlarged by repeated grants of power from congress.

Making New Jobs

The President has been given authority to spend $3,300,000,000 on public works in cooperation with states and subdivisions without self-liquidating requirements on the projects for which the money is spent and without any obligation on the states to impose new taxes to pay the loan portion of the federal contributions.

He has created a corps of forestry and flood prevention workers selected from the unemployed, with preference to war veterans; has inaugurated a new federal and state cooperative employment service; may disburse $500,000,000 in aiding states in relief work; may spend many millions in developing agriculture and industry in the Tennessee valley.

Industry

The industrial control bill, rushed for approval as congress neared adjournment, outlined broad powers for the President.

According to it, he may require license requirements within industrial groups that its members formulate a code of practices or may himself formulate such a code, giving it the authority of law. These powers permit him to regulate wages, prices and production to a considerable extent and otherwise to control competition within certain limits.

WASHINGTON, (AP).—Never before in peace time have the American people through their congress placed in the hands of one man as much power as has been given President Roosevelt.

Scattered through the major enactments of the first special session of the seventy-third congress are grants of direct or indirect powers in number and degree unparalleled.

According to these grants, he may directly or indirectly print money, cut the gold content of the dollar, open or close banks, impound gold, rent farm land, spend several billions for public construction, farm and home mortgage debt reduction, compel coordination of rail services, and compel oil producers to comply with state laws.

These powers have been delegated to him by congress. Such designation of authority is not new in America, although, in peace time, such large grants are unrecorded in past history.

Lincoln and Wilson exercised powers verging on the dictatorial during their administration. Jackson demanded and obtained unusual money powers. Theodore Roosevelt also was tremendously powerful as chief executive.

President Roosevelt has characterized his requests for powers with the word "emergency." No power that has been given him cannot be taken away by the congress.

Summaries of these grants of powers, by subject matter rather than in relation to the acts in which they were incorporated are presented herewith.

Farm Relief

The executive is empowered to put in operation a three-way and self-liquidating plan of farm relief designed to raise farm commodity prices. Land may be leased from the farmers to keep it out of production and a tax levied on processors of farm products to pay the costs of this leasing.

The President can issue government bonds to the extent of $2,000,000,000 for refinancing farm mortgages at 4 1/2 per cent interest, exchanging those bonds for mortgages or directly lending money from the sale of those bonds to the farmer.

He can inflate the currency to raise farm prices if he finds such inflation necessary.

Banking

Mr. Roosevelt may set out the conditions under which any bank enjoying benefits of the Federal Reserve system may operate. He may impound gold, coined or in bullion; prevent the export of gold; direct the prosecution of persons hoarding gold beyond limited amounts.

In any emergency he virtually may direct all transactions in credit, currency, gold and silver and foreign exchange. He may cause the central banking system to buy $3,000,000,000 in government bonds on the open market.

He may direct the opening of banks closed by the emergency and is authorized to subscribe to the capital stock of reopened banks.

Currency

Authority to seek a raise in prices by inflation of the currency or credit has been granted the President. He may reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent; may cause the Federal Reserve system to pump credit into the money system; may, by direct government order, do the same thing by bond purchases.

He may accept $200,000,000 in silver at 50 cents an ounce in payment on inter-governmental debts due and may issue silver certificates backed by such silver.

He has already caused the issuance of small amount of Federal Reserve bank notes and has reduced the legal requirements for supporting the currency.

Economy

The President is authorized, for the purpose of reducing government costs by a billion dollars a year, to readjust eligibility rules and rates for veterans' compensation within limits set by congress; to apply a sliding scale of pay reduction of up to 15 per cent to government salaries generally on basis of variation between 1925 and current cost of living index.

He has authority to reorganize, transfer and consolidate government departments and bureaus for efficiency or economy under such conditions that a two-thirds majority vote in congress would be required to set aside such executive orders.

He has exercised powers drastically to reduce the appropriations for regular departments.

Railroads And Oil

President Roosevelt has authority through a federal coordinator and under suspension of the anti-trust laws to require operating consolidations among railroads, setting up regional systems, which would eliminate circuitous routings and duplications.

He can compel through interstate regulations the compliance of oil producers with state output restrictions designed to stabilize the industry and to conserve natural resources.

Plans For Discovery
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"We've had many troubles in Puddle Muddle," Willy Nilly sighed, "but nothing like this has ever happened in our little settlement."

"Well," barked Rip, the dog, "we'll have to decide what we're to do."

"We'll eat what food we have on the table," suggested Willy Nilly, "and that will give us strength to plan and to act upon our plans."

So they had their meal and then they went outside on the porch and each one suggested something.

"You named yourself," Christopher Columbus Crow because you said you were always making discoveries," Willy Nilly said to the Crow.

"Perhaps you can find the thief," "Caw, caw, perhaps so," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow, cocking his head on one side. He looked so bright and intelligent that they felt sure he could be of great assistance.

"To be sure," Willy Nilly continued, turning now to Top Notch, the Rooster. "You have always been our star detective. In fact you have been wonderful about detecting the real trouble makers. You'd better go around the countryside and find out if any one else has been visited by a thief."

"As Mayor of Puddle Muddle," crowed Top Notch, as he started, "I should be able to do something. I think that first I'll go to my best farm and hear what they have to tell me."

So now everyone was planning to go in a different direction and see if any trace of the thief or of the missing silver could be found.

Jelly Bear had an idea he might find the silver!

In Memoriam.
In sad and loving memory of our dear father, Sidney C. Hommel, who departed this life one year ago today, June 15, 1932. May he rest in peace.
Dearest Father you have left us.
And our loss we deeply feel.
But God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the days of life are fled.
When in heaven in joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tears are shed.
SON AND DAUGHTERS.

In Memoriam.
In loving memory of my husband,
Frank Van De Bogart, who died June 15, 1929.
Four years have passed,
My heart's still sore,
As time flies on,
I miss you more.
God called him home
It was His will,
But in my heart I love him still.
Signed,
WIFE, (MRS. MARYETTA VAN DE BOGART).

HOPE AND FAITH
by E. B. Johnson Hope is born in the Springtime breeze
It is born of the Springtime flowers.
In the dew of the dawn-
dawned grass,
In the gleam of sunset
beams,
But faith is born in the heavenly heart
Of the flower beneath the snow
That the kiss of the sun will lift its head
In the Spring it will live and grow.

The unquestioned durability and beauty of our memorials make them the choice of discriminating people. Designs of exceptional distinctiveness.

HOMEMADE MONEY FINANCES FACTORY

Town in Kentucky Secures an Important Industry.

Paducah, Ky.—Construction of a factory to employ 1,000 to 1,500 persons is being financed here with home-made money.

Developing a large firm handling shirts previously made in the state penitentiary, announced its producers would be made outside the prison and that it was seeking location for a factory.
Paducah business men got busy.
They found the factory could be brought here if they financed a building costing $100,000. They gave cash and signed notes aggregating that amount.

Leading business men met with the mayor and decided to raise the funds through issuance of scrip. Printers were set to work running off $20,000 in "Certificates of Paducah Industries Committee."

The plan is simple. The certificates are printed by the Paducah Industries, a body organized to supervise operation of the plan. They are distributed through a fiscal agent of the committee.

An employer signing a contract to cooperate in the plan purchases a certain number of the certificates each week, paying $1 each for them. He then pays his employee half in scrip and half in legal tender.

Here enter the stickers. Before an employee can "spend" his certificates he must place a one cent sticker on each certificate. The stickers are printed and sold by the Paducah Industries.

The second person who receives the certificates uses a two cent sticker.
The third person handling affixes another one cent sticker.

When these stickers total four cents the certificates may be "cashed" for $1 at a bank.

Former "Goose King," 81, Says He Shod His Flock

Mansfield, Ill.—William H. Firke, eighty-one years old, one-time "goose king," whose name has graced men-cards of some of the nation's best hotels, is living quietly on his farm a half mile northwest of here.

In 1917 Firke gained his title when he fattened 50,000 geese and sold them to fancy poultry markets of the East.
On one Sunday 8,000 visitors called at his farm to see his army of geese.

He is famous for his many stories of exploits, the best being that about the time he provided a flock with shoes in order to march them overland from his farm in Tennessee to a railroad 67 miles away. To protect their feet, he conceived the idea of "shoeing" them.

Accordingly, he poured a quantity of pitch tar, heated into a semi-liquid state, onto the floor of his poultry houses.

Then he drove his geese into the houses, where they waddled about in the mixture for a few minutes, and then emerged properly "shod" for their long journey.

Transients Increasing Fast, Survey Reveals

St. Louis—America's transient population is increasing at an alarming rate, a survey by G. M. Gwiner, director of the St. Louis bureau of homeless men, indicates.

Gwiner estimates that there are more than 500,000 men and boys drifting about the country. Of these, more than 200,000 are boys under twenty years of age, he believes.

Trains coming into St. Louis daily bring between 2,000 and 3,200 uninvited guests, the survey, made in cooperation with railroad officials, showed. Most of these move on in a day or two, Gwiner said.

World's Largest Rabbit Is Owned in California

Gilroy, Calif.—The largest rabbit in the world is believed to be Gilroy Queen, a prize-winning Flemish giant, owned by Jess Rhodes. Gilroy rabbit raiser. She is eleven months old, weighs 23½ pounds and has not yet attained her full growth.

The huge white rabbit, which measures 23½ inches long, is the largest of more than 10,000 rabbits registered with the American Rabbit Breeders' association, and is believed to be the largest ever grown.

Bossy's Brew Above Limit, Owner Finds

Geneva, Ohio.—Capt. I. D. Howard, North Geneva farmer, still hopes he will not find Molly, his favorite cow, wearing four government padlocks some morning.

"Several days ago, Molly got hold of some damp wheat that had soured.

"Molly is a fool cow, like all mil-key cows," said Captain Howard.
"So, of course, she ate all the wheat she could hold. The next morning when I milked, the foam overflowed the bucket and soaked my knees. Molly had turned herself into a brewery and far exceeded the legal 32 beer."

Dr. Goodman's Body Recovered From River

The body of Dr. Maurice Goodman, 39, of New York city, was found floating on the surface of the Hudson at Milton Wednesday afternoon.
Not far from the spot where he sank while in swimming with several companions around midnight Saturday.

The doctor and other members of the party had gone in swimming from a small yacht which was moored at the Milton dock. He was some distance upstream when his friends heard him call for help. He sank before assistance could reach him.

Troopers and others searched in vain for the body. A call was sent in to the sheriff's office Monday for grappling irons and an attempt was made to locate the body by grappling, but to no avail.

Coroner Sulzer of Mariborough took charge of the body and later turned it over to the Briscoe undertaking parlors at Milton until instructions as to its final disposal could be received from the relatives of the dead man. Meanwhile the coroner expected to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the drowning.

From Shirtsleeves Back to Top Coats

Following the hot spell gripped the city for six days, the weather assumed control of the station on Wednesday and the wave continued in force today, though the weather was much cooler this afternoon than it was Wednesday afternoon. During the spell men went around in shirtsleeves but Wednesday and day many wore topcoats.

Wednesday night was the coldest experienced in some time, and it was necessary to sleep under extra coverings in order to enjoy a night rest comfortably. Wednesday today houses without fire chill and uncomfortable and as a result a number of householders had a fire in their heating plants.

Repeaters Tounce Truckers 20-3 And Increase Their Lead

Jimmy Morgan's Repeaters battered Van Etten & Hogan's Truckers at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening and advanced a game nearer clinching the first half of the City League. The Repeaters had a hard time beating the Truckers in their last league game, but left no doubt as to the superior team this time, winning by a score of 20 to 3.

The Repeaters had a grand time fattening their batting averages, some of them adding 100 points to their averages. Jimmy Merritt led a field day with four hits and scored first base five times out of six trips to the plate. Charlie Tiano garnered three hits out of five trips to the plate and the rest of the Repeaters posted at least one safety.

Two baggers seemed to be the order of the night, no less than eight being hit. Fraleigh, Knight, Tiano, L. Bruhn and Davitt were the Repeaters to get doubles. Sam Lockett fashioned two and Had Bassett one for the Truckers.

In all 15 hits were made by the Repeaters. Sam Lockett, starting Truckers pitcher, gave them six in 1-5-3 innings and Mandy Wilson allowed them 12 in 5-3-2. Lockett didn't pitch much better and would have fared better had his support been any good at all. The Truckers played ragged ball all night, making 10 actual errors besides many errors of omission.

Ted Fraleigh did the pitching for the Repeaters and it is needless to say that he had an easy time of it. He permitted only five hits, not two coming in one inning, and fanned eight opponents.

The Repeaters scored in every inning save the first and sixth. In the first frame they had the bases loaded only to let the runners stranded when they failed to hit the ball out of the infield. In the second inning things were different. They coupled six hits with a sacrifice and an error to send six runs home.

Four hits, two errors and a couple of passed balls gave the Repeaters five more markers in the third. They added six more in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the seventh.

Had Bassett's double after Proctor drew a pass resulted in the Truckers' first run. Their other two runs came in the fourth. An error by Morgan on Burden's fly, a walk to W. Vandervee and Lockett's second double accounted for the runs.

SIDELINERS

Jimmy Morgan had some real batting practice the second and third times up. He hit about eight fouls.

Burden was all set for Lay's fly in the third inning when Willie Vandervee came along and took it. Willie obliged by dropping it.

Cleveland Thomas, who claimed no pitcher in the league could strike him out, found a twirler who could. He fanned pretty in the third inning.

There were plenty of extra base hits but no one threatened the box of King Stone cigars offered by the Medicine Chest for the next homer.

If the Repeaters can defeat Schryvers next week they will be the winners of the first half. They protested the Herzog game and are sure of being upheld as the Hardwaremen broke the rules in using ineligible players.

with the Schryver Lumbermen for second place in the standings of the Clubs. A defeat for them would practically eliminate them from winning the honors in the first half. In their last game with the Gardens the Dairymen come out on the short end of the score and they are out to avenge that defeat. Gus Wiedemann probably will get the assignment to pitch for the Dairymen. Luke Rook will be the receiver. Paul Joyce, the Gardens' ace, is expected to do the mound duty for the Gardens. Joe Messenger will do the receiving.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. COULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Big Bill Tilden is 40 years old but you would never think it to see him play tennis now on the professional circuit. It was seven years ago they began to sing his swan song, because of a "trick" knee, but he plays oftener now than when he was swinging around the amateur tournament circle.

"The only answer to it that I can give you is that I keep in condition and have been lucky that my legs still carry me around at a fair rate of speed. The last time I played Vinny Richards, he remarked he thought I was playing better than ever. I think there is less waste of effort in my game than there was a half dozen years ago.

"Of course I can't keep it up forever but I hope to see the day, soon, when we will have an open championship of the United States and I can participate in it. Tennis will be that much better off when the existing artificial barriers are removed. I would like nothing better than to play Ellsworth Vines for the national championship. But for some bad management, somewhere, it might have been done this year."

Tilden referred here to the fact that the United States Lawn Tennis Association last winter sanctioned a 1933 open championship, awarded it to the Germantown Cricket Club and then tossed the whole thing overboard, because of an ostensible conflict in dates.

Vines Great Champion

Since he and Little Bill Johnston left the main arena, Tilden thinks the only American champion worthy of the name is Henry Ellsworth Vines, Jr.

"Vines has convinced me he is a great champion," said Big Bill. "He has something the others have failed to develop, namely the ability to come through on days when he is not so good. Any star can win when he is at his best, but it takes something else besides the old wallop to pull through on an off-day. Vines has shown he can do it.

"Stoefen? He's just a slugger now, although he has real possibilities. This boy, Frankie Parker, is a real comer. He has all the strokes and he is a fighter."

Run-Around for Sutter

It is no particular secret that Tilden does not think much of the American Davis Cup management and hasn't since the days when he was the storm-center of the game, here and abroad.

"When Johnston and I were winning Davis Cup matches, we did it in spite of the Davis Cup committee," remarked Big Bill.

"Take the present situation as an example. A half dozen players are being taken abroad, including the four named for the Davis Cup matches, but you don't find the No. 2 ranking player, Cliff Sutter, among them. That's not my idea of the way to develop or encourage the talent that's moving toward the top. If Sutter is good enough to rank No. 2, he is good enough to be given the international experience which he will need, if and when he may be picked for a later team.

"The French came over here for years before they broke through to win. They have outplayed and outsmarted us ever since."

Braves to two hits in last seven innings as relief pitcher.

Ted Gullic, Browns—Drove in six runs against White Sox with homer, triple and single.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals—Hit double in sixth, driving in run that beat Pirates 3-2.

Chuck Klein, Phillies—Clouted eleventh homer, double and single against Dodgers.

Tagging Major League Bases

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

To William Anthony Hallahan, who no longer has much of a claim to his old nickname of "Wild Bill," belongs a large share of the credit for keeping the St. Louis Cardinals in the thick of the National League race.

There are plenty of other reasons why the Cards are right on top of the league leading New York Giants, among them the fine work of several other pitchers, the snappy job Leo Durocher has been doing at shortstop and his unexpectedly strong hitting, but the fact that Hallahan has settled down and become about the best left hander in the National League stands out a bit above the rest.

It used to be that Bill either struck them out or walked them.

This year his strikeout record isn't so high but neither has he given out so many passes and after a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday he stood at the head of the National League's pitchers with a record of eight games won and only two lost. He has passed only 26 batters in 96 innings of flinging.

No Passes Yesterday

Hallahan didn't give a base on balls to the Bucs yesterday and after the first inning he pitched shutout ball while the Cards pecked away at Heinie Meine's delivery for just enough runs to win. The victory gave St. Louis a 2½ game margin over Pittsburgh but failed to reduce New York's lead. The Giants beat the Boston Braves 6-5, after Leroy Parmelee's wildness had given the tribe all its runs in the first inning. The Giants promptly equalled that rally in the second while Adolf Luque pitched great relief ball to win the game.

The Chicago Cubs regained their clear hold on fourth place by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 7-0 behind Charley Root's two hit pitching and Brooklyn's Dodgers captured sixth by trouncing the Phillies 6-3 with an eleven hit attack behind some effective flinging by Ray Benge. After a day in fourth place, Cleveland Indians returned to the second division of the American League by taking a 13-2 pasting from Detroit. They dropped a few points behind the idle Philadelphia Athletics. Although the Indians got as many runs as they did in their first two games under Walter Johnson, they couldn't cope with the Tigers' 14 hit attack.

Yankers Flunk

To complete a triumph for the second division, the St. Louis Browns turned on the Chicago White Sox, pounding out 14 hits to win 14-1 while Bump Hadley held the hose to four safeties, and the last place Boston Red Sox made it three straight over the New York Yankees, facing out eight runs in the seventh and eighth innings to win 13-5 after the Yanks had scored all their runs in the first half of the seventh.

P.-T. A. No. 4 HELD

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The annual report of the retiring secretary showed a very worthwhile year of activities and accomplishments and while the treasurer's annual report demonstrated that more had been spent than taken in, still a surplus from the previous year left over $266 in the treasury to start work with in the fall.

The new president, Mrs. Dunham, announced the following chairmen: Press, Mrs. W. R. Anderson; hospital, Mrs. H. H. Van Valkenburgh; refreshments, Mrs. Joseph McConnell; Child Welfare Magazine, Mrs. Oscar Goodsell, and Mrs. G. D. Matthews and Mrs. Fred Leverich as a committee to prepare a program for the work of the coming year.

Mrs. Dunham gave a report of the district conference held at Poughkeepsie.

A rising vote of thanks was given the outgoing officers for their faithful service during the past year and the retiring president, Mrs. Donovan, thanked all who had cooperated so finely with her in the work.

It was voted to make the janitor a present of $5 in appreciation of his services.

Ice cream and cake were served. The next meeting will be held in September.

Sanduralac—the exclusive lacquer finish on all patented Sandura Rugs—is a new idea in rug making. It gives a beautiful sparkle, lasting protection, and a permanent lustre to the rug. It brings out all the natural beauty of the color. Sandura Rugs are very easy to keep clean. No scrubbing, no scouring. The tough, flexible Sanduralac Surface fills up every rug pore, so that dirt, grit, or moisture simply can't cling or be ground into the surface. A dry mop is all that is required to keep them spotless and bright. And the Sanduralac Surface makes Sandura Rugs wear considerably longer than ordinary rugs.

Remember—only Sandura Rugs have the genuine Sanduralac Surface and are protected by United States Patents.
